

THE BIG GUN

It Weighs in the Neighborhood of Thirty Tons

And Fires Nearly Six Hundred Pounds of Metal Nine Miles.

It is a breech-loader of high power, and is twenty-nine feet in length. The gun can be fired in five minutes.

New York, Aug. 15.—The first official test of the ten-inch disappearing pneumatic gun carriage was made at the United States Ordnance proving grounds at Sandy Hook.

The tests were made under the supervision of the board of ordnance and fortifications. They were directed by Capt. Frank Heath, in charge of the proving grounds, assisted by Lieut. Wheeler, of the ordnance department. At exactly 11:30 the first shot was fired. The gun is a breech-loader of high power, is twenty-nine feet in length, weighs thirty tons and fires a projectile weighing 575 pounds. The gun is connected with the carriage by two powerful arms, and when raised to a firing position is at a height of eight feet above the carriage. To load and make ready for firing requires only five minutes. It is all done by compressed air manipulated by one man. The projectile was placed on a loading tray, and by the turning of a small wheel the tray was raised to the breech of the gun and the projectile was rammed home by a telescopic rammer. Two sacks of powder followed the projectile into the breech.

The sacks contained 180 pounds. The elevation was three degrees. The time required to bring the gun down to the buffers was one minute and fifteen seconds. The second shot was fired at three minutes of 12 o'clock at an elevation of twenty degrees. The projectile contained 250 pounds of powder, a service charge such as is used in time of war.

At an elevation of twenty degrees the projectile splashed the sea nine miles away. When the gun recoiled it came within two inches of the buffers, and in less than ten seconds, had sunk gently on the buffers into loading position. It is with a charge like this that the carriage is supposed to work perfectly. This was the highest elevation fired with any carriage with the new high-power gun in this country. The third shot was fired at an elevation of three degrees, and the projectile contained 100 pounds of powder. The recoil brought the gun within eighteen inches of the buffers, and the time required to get it in loading position was two minutes and forty-five seconds.

The fourth shot was at an elevation of five degrees and the recoil was seven inches above the buffer. Time required to bring the gun into position, one minute. The sixth shot was at an elevation of fifteen degrees. The charge was thirty pounds, and the gun recoiled within three inches of the buffers and rebounded to the buffers in twelve inches. Time required to get the gun into loading position, one minute and fifteen seconds. The seventh shot was fired at an elevation of three degrees with 210 pounds of powder. Eighth shot, two hundred and twenty pounds of powder, at an elevation of ten degrees. Ninth shot, two hundred and twenty pounds of powder, at an elevation of twenty degrees. Tenth, 100 pounds of powder at an elevation of twenty degrees. The gun recoiled to the buffers in three inches, and time for depression from twenty degrees to zero, thirty-eight seconds. The gun was then fired at an elevation of ten degrees, and the projectile traveled 120 degrees, fifty-five seconds. When the gun is in a firing position it is about fifteen feet from the ground. Much of the test was done by passing vessels, and as Capt. Heath did not want to sink any more schooners, firing was done only when the coast was clear.

The projectiles used were about three and one-half feet long and were of cast-iron. There will be two more official tests of the carriage. The test was in the language of the contract, with such changes as may be suited to test the working and adjustment of the several parts of the carriage. The next test, which will be on Tuesday, will be with ten round, full service charges at such elevations as may be determined by the board. The test will be under the direction of Maj. Comly, as the representative of the board. The board as a whole will not attend. The third test will be on Tuesday, with full service charges, as rapidly as the gun can be served. The cost of the carriage, if accepted, will be $48,000.

STRECHMEN

Employed by the Erie and Lehigh Valley Road Strike.

Property Belonging to Company Destroyed by Incendiary Fires.

A Number of Men at Work Assailed and Injured by a mob of strikers on a Passenger Train—Switches Turned off and Freight Cars Detained.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 15.—There is no further disguising the fact that the strike of the Erie and Lehigh Valley switchmen is a serious matter.

Property belonging to the railroad company has been destroyed by incendiary fires; men engaged in the peaceful performance of their duties in the country have been arrested and sent to the hospitals; the movement of trains has been seriously interfered with and the lives of innocent persons who were on the way connected with the strike and had even heard of it, have been endangered by the dereliction of duty of a mob of strikers on the roads. Such is the indictment up to the hour of writing. There had been more or less ill feeling Saturday between the strikers and their sympathizers and the men who were doing the strikers' work, and a few desultory assaults had occurred.

Things began to get on a serious aspect at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, when a series of incendiary fires broke out simultaneously in the Lehigh Valley yards. Eighteen passenger cars, filled with wool, cotton, hay and various other merchandise, two passenger cars, two watchmen houses were burned. The fires occurred in places where the firemen could not successfully stay the flames on account of an absence of water, besides the difficulty of access to the cars.

The water tank adjacent to the coal trestles was smashed and an engine that was taking water there wrecked by a string of ten runaway cars, one of which had been turned loose from the trestle.

A fire was first discovered in the east-bound yard, east of Diggins street, where a five-story building and two or three freight cars were destroyed. At this time Yardmaster Mead discovered the fire. The fire occurred in a place where the firemen could not successfully stay the flames on account of an absence of water, besides the difficulty of access to the cars.

The yard east of Diggins street, five miles from the city of Erie, was a fire. It took hours from three cars to reach the flames from the nearest hydrant. DYNAMITE.

Aristocratic Resort at Ostend, Belgium, Shattered.

Three Persons Fatally and Several Others Seriously Injured.

The Dead Thronged to Work of An Aristocrat—Dynamite and Terror Among the Fashionable at the Belgian Resort—The King in Danger.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 15.—Great excitement prevailed Saturday over a dynamite explosion that has resulted in three persons being fatally injured. Ostend is the favorite resort for the Belgian aristocracy. The king of the Belgians has a summer place there and the visitors to the baths and other attractions include the nobility from all parts of Europe.

The old Kaiser William, of Germany, also was a frequent visitor to Ostend, and although the present Kaiser does not follow his grandfather's example, many noble German families still make Ostend their summer habitation.

At present Ostend is thronged with visitors. One of the most aristocratic resorts is the Cafe Du Prince Albert, called after the late prince consort of England, and much frequented by English scoundrels.

Saturday, while a number of people were in the cafe, a dynamite cartridge exploded under one of the tables.

The force of the explosion was terrific. The cafe was wrecked, the windows shattered, the tables broken and plates and glasses smashed and hurled about the room. Several persons in the cafe were wounded by the flying missiles, and three were fatally injured.

The spectacle was a most horrible, even in Ostend. People came running out of the cafe, their faces streaming with blood, adding to the dismay and terror of the onlookers who had gathered at the sound of the explosion. The police rushed in and found several persons lying in the wreck with serious wounds, one of them unconscious and another almost dead, owing to the copious flow of blood from a gash in his temple.

The wounded were at once conveyed to the hospital, or their stopping places, and efforts were made to ascertain who was guilty of the crime.

So far, they are without any reliable clue as to the criminals.

It is thought that perhaps they were anarchists, and that the explosion was in revenge for the severe penalties recently imposed on Belgian anarchists.

FEARFUL WORK

Of a Mad Bull at Gallipoli, On—Three Horses Gored to Death—He Attacks Two Men After Being Fatally Wounded.

GALLIPOLI, On, Aug. 15.—John Niday had a large, fine thoroughbred short-horn, which was cut out after he had raised the animal, and it was not regarded as dangerous, but Saturday morning it escaped from home and went to the Mart's about two miles off, and got among his horses and gored three in such a manner that they died.

After much trouble they got him again, when he was cut after he had thrown Niday, knocked him down and threw him about as he would a feather pillow. The animal then turned on Mr. Warder's pasture field, wherein his horses were quietly feeding. A gun was finally procured. A young man named Hively took aim and shot the animal square in the head. He fell, stretched out his massive frame on the green sward and it was thought was dead, but when Hively went up to him to cut his throat, he arose like lightning and charged upon him with wild ferocity. Hively took to his heels and barely escaped with his life by getting into a brush heap that was near by, where he was safe until he reloaded his gun and put it in his hands.

Five of the seven shot penetrated his skull, from which the brains oozed.

THE TENNESSEE TROUBLE.

Convicts at Tracy City Will Be Released—A Feeling of Enmity Against the Army.

KNOWLEDGE, Tenn., Aug. 15.—The release of convicts at Tracy City Saturday by the military authorities has created excitement throughout this region.

While there has been no recent or general effort made to release the convicts at Coal Creek and Oliver Springs, there is an augmented feeling of enmity against the state authorities and the state militia. A month since the troops were removed from Oliver's, and the handful of men at Coal Creek would prove powerless, in the event of an attack. The petition of citizens asking the removal of the troops, just secured for presentation to the governor, will not be used.

Gov. Buchanan has not notified the military authorities at Coal Creek what action to take, but there is a belief that they will be ordered to Tracy City and guard the convicts who are to be put back in the mines at once.

Operator at Coal Creek is not accessible, and his location is not known. No attack by the Tennessee miners is anticipated, as the action of the miners at Tracy City was unexpected, and the miners in this end of the state are not at all friendly to the military.

Despite the contract of the state with private corporations, and the use of the state militia in this end of the state, it is modified or obliterated bloodshed will follow, and no one can predict the end.

BABY'S CURLY HAIR.

An Enraged Husband Covets His Better Half—In Revenge She Poisons Her Husband.

MOBILE, Ala., Aug. 15.—A case unparalleled in the history of crime in this vicinity is reported from Baldwin, an adjoining county. Several days ago an appeal was made for the body of a woman, who was said to have died of typhoid fever. An investigation of the case shows that the woman, some two months ago, had given birth to a male child. A Negro was evidently the child's father. Her husband became furious and gave her a severe whipping, so that she was ill for days. After the woman recovered the husband was violently ill and died in great agony two days later. It now transpires that the woman poisoned her husband and, since the burial, lived with the Negro who caused her ruin. A lynching here is probable.

A BUILDING COLLAPSES.

Barling Twenty Workmen—All Seriously and Four Fatally Hurt.

OSKEMA, N. J., Aug. 15.—A building which was being erected here last Friday afternoon, having twenty men beneath it. The accident occurred by the sudden giving way of a derrick, causing the entire structure of massive wooden beams and timbers to collapse. Up to a late hour Friday night twelve men were taken from the ruins, all seriously and four fatally wounded. Several of the others, it is also feared, will die. There are hundreds of men at the ruins, and a great rescue is being pushed forward very fast. The injuries of those taken from the ruins are of the most terrible nature, the limbs of some being torn off while the faces and bodies of others were crushed almost beyond recognition.

NAPLES, Aug. 15.—The festival of St. Anselma was closed at Cesa Sunday evening with fireworks in the market place. A large crowd had gathered around the spot where the fireworks were set off. A bunch of rockets was set near a burning wheel and was ignited. The rockets were driven in all directions through the thick crowd, carrying with them fire and panic. Six men were killed in the face or chest, and the rest were badly torn and burned that they died before they could be removed. The sparks set fire to the fireworks were set off, and before the fire could be extinguished four of the young women were seriously injured.

Temple and Pinney became involved in a quarrel, and Pinney, grabbing his double-barreled gun by the muzzle, began to pound Temple over the head. Both barrels were discharged, striking Pinney in the abdomen, killing him instantly. Temple had drawn a revolver, and just as Pinney fell he shot him in the thigh. Temple and Schuster were arrested.
